Community Translation Dashboard

The project goal was to improve the interactions necessary to review suggested improvements to machine translation phrases. I worked directly with the end users of the tool to expedite discovery of efficiencies.

Default view shows persistent approve/reject buttons, and makes suggestions editable at any time. No reliance on hover state to support touch computing.

As approvals and rejections are indicated, a "submit" button is revealed. The changes remain editable until they are submitted by simply toggling the approve/reject button state.
